

The Story

Why the Quarry Course?

The pond to the south and west of our executive course was once a quarry, mined by the Ullmen family. In April of 1973, a Nor'easter caused flooding of epic proportions in the Green Bay area. Legend has it that Bower Creek flooded the quarry so quickly that the Ullmen family was unable to remove their equipment, which resides at the bottom of the flooded quarry to this day (along with more than a few golf balls and possibly a club or two.)
